Edmonton Land Valued In 1945 At $79,138,300

Edmonton's land and improvements assessment roll for 1945 totals $79,138,300 compared with $69,792,260 for 1944, an increase of $9,346,040, according to a statement to be filed with city council Monday night by Thomas Walker, city assessor, with his application for confirmation of the assessment and authority to publish the official notice.

Of the 1945 assessment increase $3,176,865 was recorded in the inner zone, and $169,175 in the outer zone. Total value of the inner zone in 1945 is $71,063,495, and in the outer zone $2,074,805. In 1944 the inner zone assessment was $67,886,630 and the outer $1,905,630.

To Cut Off Nazis

Reds Drive Within 60 Miles of Baltic

By ROBERT MUSEL
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—Soviet armored forces pushed to within 60 miles or less of the Baltic today in a powerful drive to split Germany's northern defences.

Tanks and infantry struck out through Pomerania for the Baltic after breaching the Nazi line based on the Danzig-Stettin railway at a point midway between those two big seaports.

A thrust to the sea in this area would slice off the northeastern tip of Germany, along with the Polish Corridor and the Free State of Danzig. Tens of thousands of German troops in the area would be cut off from all escape except by sea.

MAJOR AIR BATTLES

On the Berlin front, the Germans appeared to have thrown in their aerial reserves in an attempt to break up Soviet preparations for a frontal assault on the capital from their bridgeheads on the Oder, 30-add miles to the east.

The army organ Red Star said German and Soviet fighter planes were engaged in major battles over the bridgeheads, as well as deep over rear areas on both sides. The Nazi attacks appeared designed to throw Soviet off.

U.S. Marines Clearing Last Of Iwo Airport

By FRANK TREMAINE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

GUAM, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—Shock troops of three Marine divisions were clearing the last few yards of Iwo's central airfield today, completing the conquest of nearly half the tiny fortress island as the invasion went into its second week.

(A Tokyo broadcast heard by the British United Press in San Francisco said American casualties on Iwo had reached 22,000—"three marines a minute." Tokyo also claimed that Japanese planes had sunk an American submarine off Iwo.)

The battle-weary Marines had seized all of the east-west runway and all but one third of the north-south runway of Motoyama airfield No. 2 atop the central plateau in a general assault yesterday.

ARMORED ATTACK
Tanks and flame-throwers again were spearheading the attack, backed up by swarms of carriers planes and big army Liberators. Fighting was savage, with many hand-to-hand combats reported.

With the capture of Motoyama airfield No. 2, the Third, Fourth and Fifth Marine divisions will have all Iwo's airstrips—within fighter-plane range of Tokyo—in their hands. Motoyama airfield No. 1, farther south, fell to the Marines last week.

But the battle of Iwo was far from over. The Japanese still hold Mt. Moto, a volcano dominating northern Iwo, and a cluster of other peaks, all honeycombed with gun emplacements and defence tunnels from which they were raining shells and rockets on the American-held portion of the island.

WILL TAKE WEEKS
U.S. Navy Secretary James V. Forrestal, who visited the beachhead four days after D-Day, told newsmen aboard Vice Admiral Richmond K. Turner's flagship off the island that the clean-up would take many weeks.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported in a communique yesterday that the number of Japanese bodies counted had reached 2,827 by Sunday noon. Since the Japanese usually recover most of their dead, the number of Japanese killed actually may be nearer 6,000.

Prayers Are Said For Lloyd George

CRICCIETH, Wales, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—Prayers were said yesterday in the parish church of Llanystumdwy for Earl Lloyd George, seriously ill at his home there. It was stated that the 82-year-old statesman remained very weak and that his condition was unchanged after a comfortable night.

Former Railway Official Passes

TORONTO, Feb. 26.—(CP)—W. A. Kingsland, 75, whose railway career began as a clerk with a New York line in 1887 and led to the vice-presidency of Canadian National Railways central region, died in hospital here last night. He retired in 1938.

Edmonton Officer Wins American Silver Star

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—A sergeant who crossed 50 yards of flat ground swept by enemy fire to pick up a wounded comrade and carried him 800 yards over exposed terrain to safety is among 14 members of the Canadian army who have received United States awards for gallantry in action in Italy and France.

Sgt. George Rainville, 22, of Bonfield, Ont., received the United States Silver Star for rescuing a comrade wounded in Italy, defence headquarters announced last night. All those honored are members of the combined Canadian-American special service force.

Among those receiving the Silver Star was Maj. S. C. Waters, 24, of Edmonton, who disregarded his personal safety to reorganize a tank unit after its commander had been killed, and S-Sgt. J. L. Knight, 25, of Wainford, Alta., who found a lost wire team which had infiltrated through enemy lines, returned to report its position, then braved enemy artillery and machine-gun fire to return through enemy lines to reach litter bearers needed to evacuate wounded soldiers.

U.S. Silver Star also went to Sgt. Thomas Prince, MM, 29, Scantbury, Man., and Sgt. D. F. Peterson, 23, Carleton Place, Ont.

U.S. Bronze Star Medal was awarded Pte. P. T. Filleul, 28, Regina. Major Waters is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waters, 10220 129 street. He enlisted early in the war as a private with the Calgary Tanks and served overseas with that unit for one year. Returning to Canada as a sergeant, on escort duty with German prisoners, he took an officers' training course at Brockville, Ont., and later went to Helena, Mont., for training with the Canadian-American Special Service Force. From there he went to Norfolk, Va., for amphibious training, after which came a ski-training course at Burlington, Vt.

When the occupation of Kiska took place he was with the troops engaged. Going overseas he served at Cassino, the Anzio beachhead and went through the capture of Rome into the invasion of Southern France. He is back in England now for a special course. Born in Winnipeg, he attended Garneau high school, and the University of Alberta, where he played ice hockey. He is 24 years old.

Scores Hurt in Melee Civilians, Police Clash In Draftee Round-Up

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que., Feb. 26.—(CP)—Scores of persons were injured early yesterday, most of them suffering bumps and bruises from flying ice, when Provost Corps personnel and Royal Canadian Mounted Police in search of draft dodgers and army deserters clashed with a group of Drummondville residents in a two-hour melee.

Estimates of the number injured ran as high as 100, although a definite check was impossible because residents went to their homes to patch up their hurts and officials were silent as to the number of police injured. The trouble reached its peak around 12:30 a.m. and the city was quiet by about 2:30 a.m. Drummondville, with a population of 10,500, is 60 miles east of Montreal.

SAY 2,000 INVOLVED
In the absence of official comment, eye-witness estimates of the number of persons involved went as high as 2,000, but many of those who gathered as the melee continued were onlookers while others merely lent vocal support to the batters. Unofficial reports placed the number of police—army and RCMP—involved at 80 to 200.

About 25 persons were taken into custody during the actual melee, but all of them later were released by police. About 60 men whose papers were found not to be in order were detained for a time but later all but eight were released after furnishing proof of their military standing.

Eight men were taken to Montreal, of which three later were released. Continued on Page 3, Col. 4

Americans Within Sight of Cologne

By BOYD D. LEWIS
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—An American First Army spearhead drove through the Rhineland town of Blatzheim today to within 11½ miles of Cologne.

As Canadian First Army troops struck forward in the north in a new drive aimed at the Ruhr Valley, vanguards of Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' U.S. First Army advancing on the broad military highway leading northeast from Dueren to the Rhine came within sight of Cologne's bomb-scarred spires.

Front dispatches quoted a First Army staff officer as saying that the "German defense situation is deteriorating rapidly" on the 150-mile Canadian-British-American offensive are bulging deeper by the hour into the Ruhr Valley and Rhineland and bringing the Allied vanguard within gunshot of Cologne.

RACE FROM DUEREN
Blatzheim, west-southwest of Cologne, fell to American armored forces racing up the highway from Dueren, seven miles from Blatzheim.

"Germans are surrendering on all sides," a First Army dispatch said. It added that Hodges' men had counted upwards of 4,000 prisoners today, and the Germans Continued on Page 2, Col. 4

U.S. Senator Declares Canol Project Should Be Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The U.S. Army's Canol oil project in Canada should be written off as "one of the casualties of war," Senator E. H. Moore (Rep.-Okla.) asserted today.

Cost of producing oil by the project has been excessive, and its abandonment "would now seem clear even to the army," Moore said in a letter to Senator James M. Mead (Dem., N.Y.), chairman of the committee to investigate the national defense. He informed Senator Mead that data furnished him by the army service forces indicated:

1. "An abandonment of the project and a cessation of waste incident to its operation."
2. "A more penetrating investigation into the motivating forces behind the activities of certain individuals connected with the project."

NOT IDENTIFIED
Senator Moore did not identify the persons referred to.

The war department undertook to develop the Canadian oil field with a refinery at Whitehorse, Y.T., linked by a pipeline with Norman Wells, N.W.T. Operations have been carried on under a contract with a Standard Oil of New Jersey subsidiary.

The army, Senator Moore said, estimates the tentative final cost of the project as of July 31, 1944, at $101,628,601. Sixty wells were drilled by the army, he said, and production during the last half of 1944 amounted to 184,282 barrels of which 7,742 were capable of use as aviation gasoline.

Senator Moore estimated that, including charges for crude oil consumed at the refinery and allowing a 20-year amortization, the cost of gasoline for this six months period was $42 a barrel.

Japs in Manila Refuse Offer Of Surrender

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
MANILA, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—Trapped Japanese in Manila ignored a surrender ultimatum today and American troops immediately began an annihilation drive against the enemy remnants holding out in three government buildings.

The final assault on the last enemy pocket in the capital came as other American forces pushed into the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains east of Manila in an attack on the 25-mile long Kobayashi line.

An estimated 1,000 fanatical Japanese, believed commanded by Rear Admiral Iwabuchi, were lodged in the three buildings and faced certain doom.

GIVEN THREE CHOICES

They had been given three choices in the ultimatum—surrender, a fight to death, or honorable surrender. Their only reply was sniper fire while the edict was being read over the public address system.

When the deadline passed at daybreak, American guns opened fire and the troops prepared for an assault on the buildings to clean out the last resistance in Manila.

With the city virtually cleared, other American troops resumed their drive toward Luzon's eastern coast with an offensive against the Kobayashi line.

Nazis Destroy Dam To Impede Allies

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Berlin radio said last night the Germans had blown a dam on the Urh valley and unleashed several million cubic feet of water into the Roer in an attempt to slow the Allied drive toward the Rhine.

"The area south of Dueren again has been inundated as a result of blowing up a dam in the Urh valley by German troops," the broadcast claimed.

The dam destroyed was not identified specifically, but previously the Germans had blown open the tunnels of the Urh dam east of Rubberg, starting the flood on the Roer.

Schwammennau reservoir, where the biggest dam was located, had been drained by the blasting of sluice gates before the offensive began.

German People Urged To Rise Against Hitler

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—Gen. Walter von Seydlitz, member of one of Prussia's greatest military families since the days of Frederick the Great and now a leader of the free German committee in Moscow, Saturday turned on his fellow Junkers and high officers of the German general staff in an appeal to the German people to rise against Hitler.

Broadcasting from Moscow, Seydlitz said the principal culprits of the German disaster were the officers corps and the generals heading it. They acted on the orders of a "criminal who, today deserted by many supporters, will tomorrow be brought to justice by the nations of the world."

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26.—Well, the three-power conference is now history, and it was really an important event because they had so many momentous questions of the day to decide. A few of the leading problems they discussed were what to do with Germany, how to partition Poland, and how to turn the second chorus of "Accentuate the Positive" into a secret weapon. I was going to attend the conference, but then they decided against it. They figured at a round table a square would be out of place. But I really admire Premier Stalin. He's probably one of the world's greatest diplomats. He should be with that moustache. After all, he's the only one that can sit at a conference table, nod his head, "Yes," and give the rest of them the brush-off at the same time. You probably saw the newsmen of Churchill wearing his new earmuffs. He had them especially designed for those conferences. Whenever they start talking about lend-lease they automatically turn into ear trumpets. And after the conference President Roosevelt was reported to be in Italy. He's only four centuries behind Eleanor now.

Platoon Under City Officer Repulses German Assault

By WILLIAM BOSS
WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Strong German attempts to roll the Canadians off their positions along the Senio river's east dike opposite Fusignano, 13 miles west of Ravenna, were frustrated Saturday night with heavy German losses.

Company areas of a Western Canadian battalion under Maj. Frank McDougall of Weyburn, Sask., and British Columbia infantry under Majors John Bassett of Montreal and Les Thirlwell of Calgary were those assaulted in this Adriatic front which has been static along the Senio for weeks.

The initial attack fell on the positions of a platoon commanded by Lieut. Jack Harris of Edmonton.

REMAINS FIRM

Harris' platoon remained firm, however, and other Germans trying to infiltrate Bassett's and Thirlwell's positions were repulsed. Continued on Page 2, Col. 3

Most Extensive Undertaking to Date Treks in 50-Below Temperatures Part of Big-Scale Army Exercise

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Night treks in 50 below zero temperatures in northern Saskatchewan with 1,750 airborne and ground troops engaged in simulated battle conditions were part of the first of two winter army exercises announced today by defence headquarters.

The exercises were described as the "most extensive undertakings of this nature ever attempted by the army in Canada."

The Saskatchewan "Eskimo" exercises, covering 370 miles on a round trip from a Prince Albert base, ended yesterday after six weeks and were designed to test the mobility of modern formations in undeveloped country during severe cold weather.

"POLAR BEAR" EXERCISE

A British Columbia "Polar Bear" exercise, still continuing in the area between Williams Lake and Bella Coola, is similarly designed to test the movement of an all arms force in mountainous wet cold conditions which characterize a coastal region.

Defence headquarters said they could not give any indication as to ultimate use of the knowledge and training gained in the schemes but they announced "extensive co-operation" have been given in equipment and experts by Britain and the United States.

Only likely theatre of operations for use of such knowledge as gained in northern Saskatchewan would be the interior of northern China while conditions on the British Columbia coast might be likened to those of German-occupied Norway.

PEACETIME BENEFITS

The headquarters announcement referred to peacetime benefits to the Canadian northland and added: "The general benefits include the building and improvement of roads, the resultant changes that may be expected in design of vehicles, clothing and shelters and in the fields of medicine, dentistry, nutrition and hygiene."

The RCAF assumed the role of supply, dropping casualty evacuation, photo reconnaissance and forward airfield maintenance in northern Saskatchewan. Few details of the British Columbia scheme were given and no mention was made as to whether the navy was used on this coastal project.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 26.—(CP)—Toughened by six weeks in the open, in temperatures ranging to 50 below zero, the 1,750 men and officers of Canada's "Eskimo force" and their hundreds of vehicles, from jeeps to tanks, passed in review before Brig. G. A. H. Trudeau, officer commanding Military District 12 Sunday, to mark the completion of the international exercise in fighting under sub-zero "dry cold" conditions.

Dealer Reserves Plea on Charges

Erwood C. Lyons, Edmonton second-hand automobile dealer, went on trial at the court house Monday before Magistrate H. L. Hawe, K.C., on 53 counts involving infractions of War Time Prices and Trade Board regulations in connection with the sale of second-hand automobiles.

He reserved his plea to the 53 counts, 32 of which related to sales above the ceiling fixed by the WTPB, one of purchasing an automobile at a price above the ceiling, and 29 of making false written statements in connection with sales of automobiles.

On the application of Nellies V. Buchanan, K.C., counsel for the accused, an adjournment was granted by Magistrate Hawe until Monday, March 12, the crown consenting. It was intimated by crown counsel that further charges were pending.

Ban Five Nations From Conference

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Portugal, Argentina and possibly 'Eire have been banned from the San Francisco World Security Conference, it was reliably reported Saturday night.

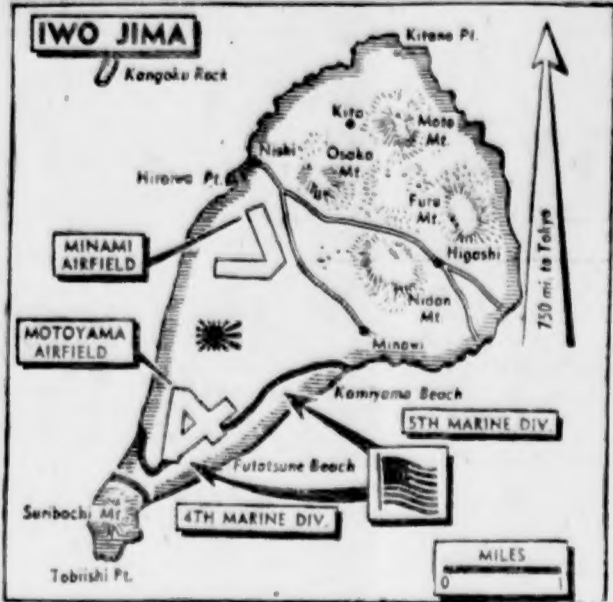

Even a declaration of war—the price of admission to the peace table for other neutral nations—apparently has been turned down in the cases of these countries.

Only a change of government, it was reported in responsible quarters, might win some of the countries a place back in the good graces of the major powers and a seat—with a vote—in the projected World Security League.

It is significant that none of the countries apparently was cut in on the "Big Three" decision to give other neutrals until March 1 to make up their minds.

with $52,955,250 in 1944, and the separate school assessment $8,328,740 in 1945 against $7,837,010 in 1944.

There is little of a contentious nature on the council's agenda, but a number of items are listed which may cause some prolonged discussion.

Council will be asked to ratify payment of a $300 membership to the Union of Alberta Municipalities, being the annual fee assessed on a population basis.

Also to be considered will be the resolutions from the Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues. One of these resolutions expresses opposition to the purchase by the city of the property at the corner of Jasper avenue and 100 street. This purchase is proposed in connection with the beautification of the approaches to the Macdonald hotel.

The federation also asks that city council give consideration to a reduction in water rates in view of the surplus being made on this civic utility.

Also to come before the city council is an application from J. J. Allen, general delivery, seeking a license for the operation of a taxi service in South Edmonton.

SEEK FREE LOTS

Council will also consider a resolution for The Armed Forces Federation, seeking free lots for ex-service personnel up to an assessed value of $500 on given utilities, and that they be given every assistance to see that a planned building program on these lots is carried out.

The city commissioners are recommending to council that the occupancy certificate fee of one dollar be eliminated.

Two recommendations for rezoning of property will come before them with recommendations that they be forwarded to the Town Planning Commission for consideration.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, while thanking the city council for considering given the union's request that an interne accompany am'ances attending all accidents, asks that this matter be given further serious consideration in the near future.

The Union recognizes that at present it is difficult for the city to provide its own ambulance service with internes attending each accident with the ambulance.

sive plans off schedule and gain time for the German command to complete Berlin's defences.

Red Star said Soviet fighters and anti-aircraft batteries were taking a heavy toll of the enemy planes. In one sector alone, the newspaper said, 32 German planes were shot down while hedge-hopping over Soviet positions.

EAST PRUSSIA ACTION
Soviet forces in East Prussia captured another cluster of towns around Zinten, 17 miles below Koenigsberg, in reducing the German pocket in East Prussia to approximately 320 square miles.

In encircled Breslau, capital of Silesia, the First Ukrainian Army cleared several more blocks, fought a violent street battle in Hindenburg square and captured another northern suburb.

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army opened its new drive toward the Baltic by capturing the Pomeranian fortress town of Preussisch Friedland, 17 miles southwest of Chojnice.

Pressing on along a 15-mile front, the Soviets cut the Chojnice-Sieulin centre of the Danzig-Stettin railway at Bischofswalde, eight miles north of Preussisch Friedland, and pounded north within 60 miles of the Baltic.

A Soviet communique said the Germans were "retreating under our blows." Some 3,000 Germans were killed and 23 enemy tanks and 47 guns destroyed. More than 200 prisoners were taken.

well's positions and link up behind them were equally foiled.

The enemy used two fresh specially-trained companies of fusiliers supported by a strong engineer company for the job and suffered casualties estimated at 40 per 60-man companies.

Intense artillery and mortar fire heralded the attack and drew a quick response from the Canadians. Guns supporting the westerners were speedily increased in strength.

"This is certainly the biggest small battle I have ever seen," Maj. Thirwell said Sunday morning in describing the pock-marked dyke-top and its approaches on the Canadian side.

Canadian snipers easily killed the Germans trying to escape back over the dyke while one enemy group tried to take cover in a house the Canadians had booby trapped. They blew themselves to bits.

were complaining of their lack of support by artillery, air forces and armor.

Indicative of the swift pace of the advance, the village of Buir, five miles northeast of Duern, was assaulted by U.S. armor at 11 a.m. By noon it had been captured and the last German sniper liquidated.

CAPTURE GOLZHEIM

Tank-riding troops stormed into the village of Golzheim, within sight of Cologne, and broke German resistance in short order. The area south of Duern was being cleaned out rapidly. Americans took Eschweiler and Soller, and drove into Boich and Rath.

Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian and United Kingdom tanks and infantry advanced three miles or more on a five-mile line in a power drive that carried within less than two miles of the Hochwald forest. The forest, lying between Calcar and Uedem, formed the third and last belt of Siegfried line fortifications between the Canadians and the Ruhr valley, barely 25 miles to the south-east.

To the north, vanguards of the U.S. Ninth Army including British armor and infantry, stormed into the Nazi stronghold of Erkelenz from the east and west and thrust on beyond the town to the outskirts of Venrath, seven miles from the industrial centre of Muenchengladbach and barely 17 miles from the Rhine Bent at Duesseldorf.

"GOING WELL"

Crerar's new drive was "going well" by mid-morning and the entire German defensive system guarding the Ruhr and Rhine appeared to be buckling under the co-ordinated battering ram attack and a merciless pounding by thousands of Allied planes.

To the south, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's rampaging Third Army tanks began to roll through the German flank in a broad end run that threatened to sweep down the valley of the Moselle to Coblenz on the Rhine.

The renewed drive by Crerar's Canadian and United Kingdom tanks and infantry and the advance by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Americans poised a deadly threat to the flanks of the hard-pressed Nazi divisions falling back across the Rhineland on Cologne.

London press dispatches said the bomb-scattered spires of Cologne could be seen by the advancing Allied troops. Captured German soldiers reported that the city itself was in ruins with only a handful of civilians remaining there.

RESISTANCE WEAK

There the American First and Ninth armies were swinging toward more than seven miles beyond the shattered Roer river line against surprisingly weak resistance.

(The BBC disclosed that Scottish troops were advancing with the U.S. Ninth Army, which is also understood to include British armored formations.)

Four days after the start of the big push for the Rhine, the Germans still had been unable to launch a single major counter-attack and had lost the key heights overlooking the Roer from which their big guns might have been able to halt the flow of Allied tanks and supplies into the Rhineland.

SEIZE MANY TOWNS

A score of fortified German towns and villages fell in the past 24 hours as the two attacking armies surged forward for gains of as much as three miles on a front now broadened to 30 miles.

The new Canadian drive on the Ruhr started at 4:30 a.m. this morning behind a blistering artillery barrage. Scottish infantry attached to Crerar's army led the attack on a five-mile front between Calcar and Uedem, barely 25 miles northwest of the industrial Ruhr.

The attack went forward in a cold driving rain and by mid-morning was reported to have gained more than a mile all along the line. German resistance was stiffening, however, as the Scots pushed ahead to a point about three miles southwest of Calcar and about a mile northwest of Uedem. Host and Kendel, in the Uedem area, were taken in the first onslaught.

WIPE OUT SALIENT

Farther west toward the Maas, Crerar's forces finally wiped out a stubborn German salient centred around Castel Blijenbeek on the Nijmegen-Venlo highway.

The U.S. First Army wiped out the last fanatical resistance in the Duern and lunged up the main Cologne road to take Golzheim, 15 miles west-southwest of the big Rhine city.

Late reports said Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' troops were well beyond Golzheim, five miles northeast of Duern, and moving steadily forward against somewhat disorganized opposition. The Germans in that sector appeared to be falling back at top speed behind the Ert river line 6 1/2 miles to the east, leaving huge minefields in their wake.

DRIVE ON COLOGNE

Armored and infantry divisions of the Ninth Army farther north made their closest approach to Cologne along the Juulich-Cologne highway where they captured Siegen, 17 miles west of Cologne and moved on more than a mile to the east.

On the Ninth Army's northern wing, other infantry and armored forces slugged their way north and northeast of Linlich against somewhat stiffer opposition in a thrust aimed at Duesseldorf.

The point of the edge at Grant-erath was less than 21 miles southwest of Duesseldorf and only ten miles south of the industrial city of Muenchen-Gladbach.

government by order-in-council was absolutely contrary to democratic principles, since it turned the Legislature into little more than "a rubber stamp."

"It is true that these expenditures have to be approved by the Legislature," he went on. "But what use is there in locking the barn after the horse is stolen? I am absolutely opposed to any government spending huge sums by special warrant, except in cases of dire need."

He voiced criticism of the government agreement with Oil Sands Ltd. for the construction of a pilot separation plant in the McMurray tar sand area.

CLAIMS GAMBLE

Despite the fact that the Dominion government has already spent nearly $2,000,000 in exploring the feasibility of exploiting the McMurray field and is continuing investigations by employing the best engineers on the continent, the speaker said the Alberta government, by order-in-council, is taking a quarter of a million dollars out of the post-war reconstruction fund and diverting it to something recognized by leading oil authorities as a pure gamble.

"I say to you members of the Legislature that when our health and education departments are crying out for additional funds to carry on and expand services, it is little short of criminal for a government to gamble with public funds in this way," Mr. Page declared.

He said he held little confidence in the promoter of the company, and little more in the likelihood of success.

PLEASED WITH ADVANCES

Mr. Page said it was a pleasure to compliment the government on education advances made in recent years. He called attention to the fact that out of the huge increase in total revenue received by the government during its tenure of office, now amounting to more than $90,000,000, less than $3,500,000 have been diverted to increases in education expenses—an increase of less than six per cent.

"If the people of Alberta can spend $17,250,473 on liquor, as they did in the last year, and if the province obtains $5,112,473 in liquor profits, I ask you why in the name of all that's reasonable we not spend more for educational services?" Mr. Page said.

Referring to what he termed the government's "sneaking upstairs" of Hon. Solon E. Low, Mr. Page said there was a natural curiosity on the part of the public to know just what happened.

"If the minister ever decides to tell the whole story, I can assure him that it will certainly be the book of the month," Mr. Page declared. "I shall go further and say that if the minister of public works (Hon. W. A. Fallow) will write the foreword, it will be the book of the century."

5th Army Troops Improve Positions

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—Fifth Army forces have improved their positions in the Monte Belvedere-Monte Della Torracina sector, southwest of Bologna, with the capture of additional high ground to the northwest, north and northeast, it was reported today.

On the Eighth Army front two strong enemy raiding parties crossed the Senio after a heavy artillery barrage Saturday night and attacked British strongpoints southwest of Fagnano. The attack was driven back after an hour.

Later in the night the Germans attacked again south of Fagnano and opposite San Felice but both raids were repulsed.

Heavy bombers of the U.S. Air Force hit communications in Austria yesterday and blasted a fuel plant and ordnance depot in the Linz area.

the north and Patton's rampaging armor in the south, the Germans appeared to have little prospect of halting the American drive short of the Ert river before Cologne, if at all.

BATTALION SURRENDERS

Heavy fighting raged on the U.S. First Army sector northeast and southeast of Duern. Even there, front dispatches said, the Nazis seemed to be merely going through the motions of a well-drilled defence. A German panzer battalion surrendered to a task force of the 104th Timber Wolf Division.

Far to the south, Patton's tanks and infantrymen were threatening the big German supply and road centre of Bittburg.

Increased Drafting Of Men Aged 30-33 Ordered in States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Selective Service Saturday night ordered increased drafting of men 30 through 33 years old, by permitting their deferment only if they are "necessary to an essential industry."

Heretofore men of that age only had to be "engaged in" such an industry. The new instructions to draft boards mean that a larger number of the approximately 1,500,000 men in that age bracket holding occupational deferments will enter military service this year.

Montreal Police Hunt Deranged Slayer of Lad

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—(CP)—City detectives searched last night for a person they labelled as a "deranged degenerate" in the murder of nine-year-old John Murray close to Fletcher's Field in the centre of the city Saturday.

The youngster was found in the snow near the section of the field used for skiing and tobogganing, after bleeding to death from a wound in his groin apparently caused by a small knife, a nail file or some similar instrument. His hands were tightly bound behind his back by ski straps.

SNOW BLOOD-STAINED
The snow underneath and around the boy was soaked with blood when he was found by another youngster, Guy Cardinal. Young Benson had left home about two hours before with his skis.

Police said that as yet they had no clue to the killer, after examination of the boy's skis, the straps binding his hands and his clothing failed to reveal any fingerprints. Medical examination showed the youngster had been indecently attacked.

The body, with the head buried in the snow, was found in a gulley formed by small snowbanks a short distance from busy Park avenue.

Police issued an appeal to all adults who had been on Fletcher's Field Saturday to throw any light they could on the slaying.

APPEAL TO TEACHERS

They also asked school teachers and principals of all English and French-speaking schools to question students Monday to see if any pupils who had been on the field or in the vicinity could furnish any clues.

Fletcher's Field and Mount Royal behind it are covered with hundreds of ski trails, but although there were a few trails close to where the body was found, no one was skiing in the vicinity for a time before discovery of the body.

Young Cardinal told police that he was skiing home after visiting the chalet atop Mount Royal when he was attracted to the body by the bright red, white and blue sweater of Benson. Benson was wearing a sweater and stockings of the colors of Montreal Canadiens, and corduroy trousers.

Carrier Planes, Superforts One-Two Air Blow Blasts Tokyo Area

By FRANK TREMAINE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

GUAM, Feb. 26.—(BUP)—Much of the centre of Tokyo was believed in flaming ruins today following yesterday's record one-two air assault by more than 200 Superfortresses and 1,000 carrier planes.

Some fires may be smoldering on Emperor Hirohito's Palace grounds. Bombs fell near the stables bureau of the Imperial household ministry on the Palace grounds, as well as near Omiya Palace, residence of the Emperor's mother, a mile and a half away, Tokyo said.

(The American broadcasting station in Europe said about 25,000 square yards in the heart of Tokyo was in flames following the double raid. NBC Monitors reported. BBC, heard by Blue Network, said part of the Imperial Guards' barracks was demolished by a bomb which fell in the palace precincts.)

It was expected that planes from Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's Task Force 58, the world's greatest concentration of aircraft carriers, would send the attack into a second day today.

At least 1,000—and probably more—tons of demolition and fire bombs were cascaded on Tokyo in the twin raids yesterday. Together they constituted the heaviest assault ever made on Tokyo, one twice as heavy as the heaviest German raid ever made on London during the height of the 1940-41 blitz and approaching in weight those now being made on Germany by the Allies.

School Facilities Subject of Talks

The problem of school facilities in relation to the 400 homes to be built here by Wartime Housing Ltd., for exclusive occupancy by ex-service men and their dependents was the subject of discussions Monday between the city commissioners, school board officials, and executives of Wartime Housing Co.

These discussions are preliminary to the selection of the sites for the proposed building program, and it is expected that a statement will be issued in the near future by Mayor John W. Fry as to the exact location of the homes.

Govt. Awaits Mayor's Reply On Insurance

The provincial government is now waiting for a reply from Mayor John W. Fry regarding a request made for a review of the city's stand on the fire insurance question, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, said here Monday.

His statement follows: I have no intention whatever in carrying on a controversy through the press with Mayor Fry regarding the placing of the city's fire insurance. Furthermore there is nothing personal between us in this matter. I was asked for a statement on the situation and I gave a statement of facts.

I am now waiting for Mayor Fry to reply to our last letter asking for a review of the situation.

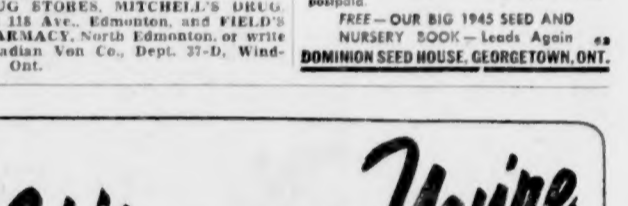

It has been suggested that I make a statement to the Legislature and this may be done within the next few days, at which time I will endeavor to review fully the relative positions of the government and the city in respect to the nonpayment of taxes by one body of government to another. This, I believe, is a matter upon which the public should have more complete information and I hope to be able to supply that need.

Fifty Arrested After Egyptian Premier Slain

By RELMAN MORIN

CAIRO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—More than 50 persons were arrested in Egypt yesterday following the assassination of Premier Ahmed Maher Pasha in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday night.

Police said the majority of the arrests were precautionary and were made to complete inquiries. Two of those arrested had been near the spot where the alleged assassin, Mahmoud El Issawi, fired the fatal shots at the premier in a corridor of the parliament.

Ahmed Maher was given a state funeral yesterday. The procession, one of the longest ever seen in Egypt, included detachments of the Egyptian army and contingents of British, South African, Indian and United States troops.

YOUNG ASSASSIN

His assassin, police said, is a 26-year-old lawyer who was interned during the first year of the war for alleged pro-German activities. King Farouk appointed Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha, former foreign minister, to succeed Ahmed Maher and asked him to form a new cabinet.

Egypt's decision to declare war on the Axis still stands. The premier was shot after reading a decree by the King declaring war. Arabic newspapers reported Egypt had not been asked to furnish troops for actual combat service.

The newspaper said the declaration only "calls things by their proper name," asserting that Egypt in fact had been at war since 1939, having placed all her facilities at the disposal of Great Britain.

THREE SHOTS FIRED

The prime minister had just completed his reading of the decree by King Farouk and was leaving the chamber when three shots were fired at him from close range.

All three bullets struck Ahmed Maher in his stomach and he died half an hour later.

A newspaper photographer had halted the premier, asking that he pose, but at that instant a young man stepped close, produced a pistol and fired into the premier's body at point-blank range.

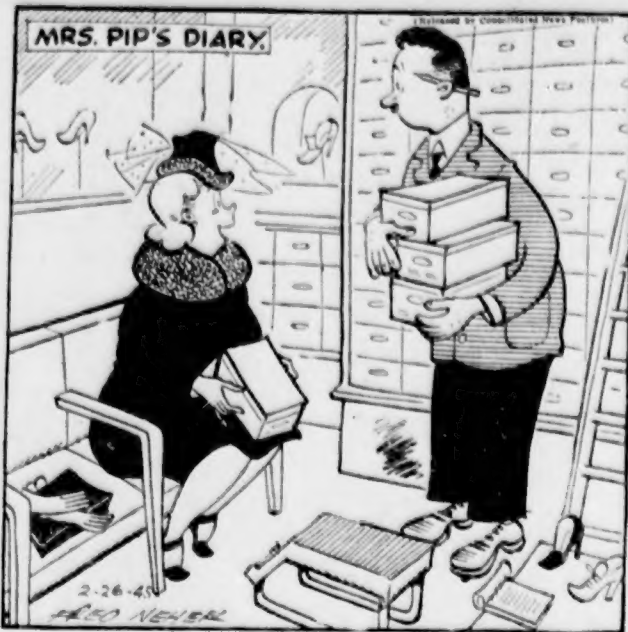

Scores of deputies rushed into the corridor as the premier sank to the floor. A well known Egyptian physician, Aly Ibrahim Pasha, who was seated in the chamber, went to the premier's side, but death occurred before he could staunch the flow of blood.

DAUGHTER PRESENT

The premier's daughter was present in the chamber. Fighting her way to his side, she was overcome by hysteria and collapsed.

The King was notified immediately and reached the chamber before his chief minister died.

A government statement later said the assassin was considered

LIFE'S LIKE THAT—"Now do you have something for men... something to sort of protect my husband's feet a little?"

'Little Vichy' in Germany First Rate Comic Opera

By JERIE GRANBERG

Swedish Newspaper Correspondent Copyright 1945, by The Associated Press STOCKHOLM, Feb. 26.—(AP)—

The "Little Vichy" of Sigmaringen, city of the Hohenzollerns in southern Germany 30 miles from the Swiss border, has degenerated into a first-rate comic opera.

The area around the state castle of the Prince of Hohenzollern, where Marshal Petain now resides, has been granted a form of "French sovereignty" by the Nazis on the theory that this gives stronger authority to the decrees, and proclamations which pour out from Sigmaringen.

The white-haired old Marshal to be pro-Axis but "it is understood the crime is not connected in any way with Egypt's declaration of war."

It was learned, however, that there was no connection between the assassination and death sentences passed on the slayers of the late Lord Moyne.

Egypt and other countries of the Middle East had been expected to enter the war against Germany and Japan since Turkey's declaration Friday which followed the Big Three Yalta agreement making a declaration of war on the Axis a condition of participation in the United Nations meeting at San Francisco starting April 25.

Brandy is supposed to have been introduced into France from Italy in 1533 at Catherine de Medici's wedding.

living in the palace stubbornly regards himself as a prisoner of the Germans and stresses this standpoint by incessant protests. Pierre Laval, immediately after his arrival at Sigmaringen, was said to have gone on strike because Hitler refused his offer to have his son-in-law attempt to negotiate a peace between Germany and the United States. Marcel Deat, Jacques Doriot, now reported dead, and other French collaborationists were reported to have quarreled violently after their arrival at Sigmaringen from Vichy. It seems they just could not agree on a just distribution of power and splendor in this comic-opera state.

Police Rush Crowd

Once on the way back to police headquarters, the Mounties were joined by some 50 Provost Corps men and a concerted rush was made on the crowd, after which the police made their way to their headquarters buildings. There the crowd upset four automobiles, smashing the windows and leaving the cars wheels up.

Three newspaper reporters, two from Montreal and one from Boston, who followed police during the raid, were mistaken for "stool pigeons" were set upon by a number of residents. They escaped with bruises after trading blows with assailants.

leased, one was classed as a deserter and turned over to the Provost Corps, three were charged with failing to report for military training when called and the other was charged with failing to have a national registration card. The last four will appear in court later on the charges.

MAYOR OUT OF TOWN

Drummondville police did not participate in the roundup and had no comment to make afterwards, while Mayor Joseph Caron was out of town when the clash occurred.

The Provost Corps men and RCMP constables came from Montreal for the raid, one of the series which started with a roundup in Montreal several days ago.

The service and mounted police, with Provost Corpsmen predominating, began their checkup late in the evening, picking up about a dozen men after examining the credentials of all males found in a restaurant, a bowling alley and a basement drinking spot. A crowd that at first was composed mostly of youths, gradually grew as the police moved from place to place.

CROWD TRAILS POLICE

By the time police had reached a downtown theatre, the crowd had grown to an estimated 1,000 with many men as well as women and children trailing the police.

As the crowd in front of the theatre spilled over onto the roadway, a Provost Corps jeep passed close to the bystanders and the crowd thought that an attempt was being made to run them down. A hail of icy chunks from the street smashed the windshield of the jeep and the crowd then began a steady pelting of police, cars and trucks.

Provost Corps trucks finally drove off, some of them with windshields smashed. Mounted policemen formed into a group and made their way back to the building they were using as headquarters with the crowd still hurling ice, and the occasional bottle, at them.

MILITARY CENTRE ASKED TO STAND BY

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The army training centre at Sherbrooke, Que., was asked to stand by to furnish assistance if necessary at one stage during the disturbances early yesterday at Drummondville, Que., when civilians clashed with Provost Corps men and Royal Canadian Mounted Police in search of army deserters and draft-dodgers, it was learned authoritatively last night.

It was understood here that for a time the situation appeared so serious that the RCMP called upon the training centre to be ready to send men. However, this assistance was not required.

PLANNED RESCUE

It was said that the disturbances, in which Drummondville reports said scores of persons were injured, broke out at 11:45 p.m., when the RCMP was preparing to move 12 men taken under arrest to Montreal and 1,000 civilians gathered outside the RCMP detachment headquarters, where the men were held, with the apparent intention of rescuing them.

Reports here said the RCMP inspector in charge lined his men up in front of the building, where the transport was parked, and the crowd began to throw rocks, ice, boards and a piece of an iron fence at them.

The police succeeding in getting away eight prisoners and took them to Montreal, a part of the force remaining behind in Drummondville with the inspector to guard the other four and the building. Two of the four RCMP vehicles on the scene were damaged and could not be used. Seven military vehicles also were damaged but were in running condition.

FOUR MEN RELEASED

After further investigation, the RCMP inspector released the four men remaining in Drummondville when the crowd dispersed at two o'clock yesterday morning. One of the eight men taken to Montreal was definitely identified as a deserter and held in close arrest pending investigation with a view to court-martial.

One member of the Provost Corps was reported badly injured and suffered head wounds which required seven stitches. A number of others, both RCMP and Provost men, were cut and bruised but none was reported in hospital.

There was no shooting or use of arms by Provost or police.

QUEBEC, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Canadian Army Provost Corps combined Saturday night for the second time in two days in raids on two downtown howling alleys and a restaurant. They questioned about 400 men on their military status and took 20 into custody. As a result of similar recent raids, more than 100 young men have visited the offices of the mobilization registrar to set their documents in order, officials said.

Chinese Recapture Former U.S. Base

CHUNGKING, Feb. 26.—(UPI)—Chinese troops have recaptured the former American air base at Suichwan in Western Kiangsi province, a commune said today.

The Suichwan field fell into Japanese hands a few weeks ago during the enemy advance into Southwestern China.

Two Members Armed Forces Occupy Seats

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The 1st Canadian Army has taken 12,000 prisoners since the opening Feb. 8 of its new offensive at the northern end of the Western Front, it was announced yesterday. Otherwise news was scarce along the army front as the day was particularly quiet.

Meanwhile it was learned Saturday that the Germans are thinning out their forces in northern Holland, pulling back troops to the IJssel River line from the Arnhem area north of the Zuider Zee.

Vital places, including the rocket-bomb emplacement zones presumably will continue to be garrisoned but there is no continuous movement of enemy forces eastward from the main part of Holland north of the Rhine estuary.

The Germans also are withdrawing troops from Netherlands islands at the mouth of the Rhine estuary. (A German withdrawal to the IJssel line would bring the far northern sector into line with the general north-south direction of the rest of the Western Front. The IJssel runs roughly north and south from the Zuider Zee to Arnhem, 10 miles north of Nijmegen.)

The emerald owes its distinctive green color to a very small amount of chromium it contains.

WON DFC

Wing Cmdr. Colborne, who arrived in Edmonton Sunday night, is commander of an anti-submarine squadron on the east coast of Canada. He won his DFC in February, 1943, after scoring two "probables" on Nazi submarines.

Wing Cmdr. Colborne was born at St. John, N.B., and went to school in Calgary. He announced over radio station CJCY and took private flying lessons just before the outbreak of war, winning his pilot's ticket.

He was the first western Canadian graduate from the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, completing courses at Camp Borden with the first group of trainees.

Wing Cmdr. Colborne's wife and two children live at Yorkmouth, N.S. They will remain in the east for the present.

He expressed satisfaction Monday morning of the government's decision to conduct the soldier vote, pointing out it will give servicemen a voice in post-war planning.

When will we have TELEVISION IN CANADA?

Imagine the day you'll sit at home in front of your first G-E television set! You'll see a bright, clear picture on the screen. It will be a moving picture, with sound. Maybe it will show you a hockey game. Maybe a musical show. Maybe a drama, or a fashion parade, or an event that is taking place on the other side of the world!

Television will bring a new pageant of entertainment right into your home. Entertainment you'll see and hear—as easily, as simply as you hear radio today!

For television is an accomplished fact. It was operating in England before the war. Many English people saw the Coronation in 1937, through television. They saw the Derby run. They enjoyed daily newscasts.

On this continent, too, television is in operation now. There are television stations in several U.S. cities. Only the war is delaying its further development and introduction into Canada. When peace returns and the financing can be arranged, television will come to Canada.

At first it may be available only in thickly populated areas. But scientists, partly as a result of their wartime work on secret devices, are perfecting ways of ensuring television coverage for the whole country.

In the task of equipping Canada for television, Canadian General Electric with its great resources, stands ready to play a big part—eager to hasten the day when you will be able to enjoy the miracle of television.

Edmonton's New Houses

Some 450 housing units have been built in Edmonton in wartime by agencies of the federal government, while the granting of priorities has enabled private parties to build 500 more. Government projects now under way will add upwards of 500 more units during the year.

If living space is still scarce in Edmonton—and it is—that is plainly not because the national authority has been indifferent to the need created by wartime growth of the population.

Building houses is an entirely new departure for a Canadian government. Considering the demands from centres all across the Dominion, this city has received its fair share of attention, both in building by government agencies and in the allotment of materials for which the civilian demand had to be kept secondary to military requirements.

These measures have helped greatly to ease the tension in the housing situation, altogether outside the National Housing scheme which has not as yet been operative in this province.

All things considered, Edmonton cannot complain that its acute house-scarcity has not received proportionate help from Ottawa.

That there is still need of more accommodation is assurance that when the National Housing scheme comes into effect here house-building will reach a pitch of activity unknown since the "boom" days of forty years ago.

Canada Fully Protected

News from Washington is that the United States may abandon the Canal project completely, and write off a part of the $134,000,000 spent as strategic war expenditure.

With this Canadians have nothing to do.
The decision rests with the United States authorities, who undertook the development on their own initiative, supplied the money, and are under no obligation to carry on if for any reason they do not want to do so.

Should they decide to throw up the project—which they may not do—Canada will come into the picture as owner of the territory, and because by agreement the Dominion will have first right to take over the pipe line and other equipment and property involved.

Canadian authorities have of course full information as to the known and probable extent of the oil deposits, the facilities for development which have been installed, and the prospective marketability of the oil at economic peacetime prices.

On this information, and only on that basis, there can be worked out a realistic calculation as to whether it would be worth while to take up the option and operate the field should Washington decide to abandon the enterprise. Off-hand guesses on the subject are of no value, and will not be necessary should the question arise.

The point of present importance is that Canada's interests are fully protected, and there is no cause for concern as to whether Washington may decide to continue or to quit.

Honorary Delegates

Turkey's declaration of war against Germany and Japan is a purely formal gesture, made for the sole purpose of securing a seat at the San Francisco conference.
Six countries in South America have taken the same action for the same purpose, also Egypt, and Iceland is expected to follow suit.

None of these countries intends to do any fighting. None of them has paid any part of the cost of defending its liberties, or intends to. They only climb off the fence because fence-sitters will not be admitted to the conference, and only do so under formal notice to that effect. All of them have given the aggressors the benefit of their inactivity. Turkey at least is under suspicion of cherishing no overwhelming desire that Hitler should be defeated.

Technically the governments of these states have qualified for representation, or are doing so. But they are none the less non-belligerents. Their role of non-contributors to the war effort of the United Nations, and the circumstances under which they applied for admission to the ranks of this group, do not entitle them to public recognition as more than honorary members.

It will be in order to remember this when the delegates from these safety first countries get up to present their views and claims at the conference.

Too Much—Too Little

Ten years ago our national policy in respect to agriculture was based on the idea that the farmers were producing too much of almost everything. Now, and for two years past, the farmers have been subsidized to produce more, though the were already producing far more than ten years before.

Last year these subsidies ran to an estimated $94,142,500. The figures for the year before were $77,044,130.

Here is the list showing what was paid from the public funds in bonuses last year and in 1943 to stimulate production of various kinds of farm products, and to shift production in some instances from one product to others:

	1943	1944
Fluid Milk	$ 4,805,477	$11,500,000
Butterfat	15,724,915	20,000,000
Concentrated Milk	464,555	1,800,000
Milk-Cheese	800,270	4,000,000
Cheese Quality Payments	1,385,948	1,000,000
Cheese Factory Payments	73,142	50,000
Fertilizer Subventions	880,742	400,000
Lime Subsidy	38,715	219,000
Feed Freight Assistance	15,940,883	14,500,000
Alfalfa Meal	37,750	50,000
Feed Wheat Drawback	2,233,488	8,200,000
Feed Storage Plan	1,217,453	883,500
Wheat Acreage Reduction	31,017,780	8,200,000
Prairie Farm Income	67,275
Prairie Farm Assistance	806,474	7,400,000
Canning Crops	956,677	2,400,000
Berries for Jam	350,000	350,000
Wool	90,187	95,000
Hog Premiums		13,400,000
Total	$77,044,130	$94,142,500

What caused this reversal from a policy aimed at reduction to a policy aimed at expansion? Markets. Ten years ago the demand was less than the supply. In wartime the demand has been so far beyond supply that bonuses have been used and are being used to speed up production.

That doesn't leave much room for doubt as to what kind of trade policy Canada is going to need when peace returns.
If agriculture is not to slump, it will have to be a policy framed to keep the demand
as near the wartime level as possible.

At Washington, War Secretary Stimson credited to misunderstanding a Paris report that the Allies had decided to employ "terror bombing" of German civilians. The report was so obviously contrary to Allied policy that probably few accepted it
as fact, and the air authorities overseas
apparently did not consider it worth denying. With plenty of war targets to aim at
there is no likelihood that at this late stage our air forces will waste bombs on civilians—to cite only the purely materialistic consideration.

"We Three Kings of Orient Are"

Many Significant Points
And Omissions in Yalta Conference

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Every major event in the life we are leading these days is charged with significance, even the place of meeting of the Big Three. Significant that it was again on Russian soil, significant that it was in the Black Sea area—and not Malta but Yalta!—significant that the statement issued covered no questions concerning the very area in which the conference was held—

the Balkans—mentioned only as having been mentioned—with Turkey and the Near East completely omitted.

It might be recalled that nine years ago three powers—Britain and France versus Russia—fought a war over this area. In that war Russia was defeated, was compelled to dissolve her Black Sea fleet, and open ports on the Black Sea for duty-free trade. At that time Russian hopes for a warm-water outlet were quelled.

Today the situation is reversed.
No power can challenge Russia in the Black Sea. The question now is whether Russia shall have access to the Mediterranean. And this question will not be answered merely by the status quo given to the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles. Two other states and questions are involved: Shall Bulgaria gain an outlet to the Aegean, and, what facilities could the Soviet government get on the Adriatic coast of Yugoslavia—and how much of Italy may that coast include?
The report was so obviously contrary to Allied policy that probably few accepted it
as fact, and the air authorities overseas
apparently did not consider it worth deny-
ing. With plenty of war targets to aim at
there is no likelihood that at this late
stage our air forces will waste bombs on civilians—to cite only the purely materialistic consideration.

Here Is A Patent Injustice

From The Winnipeg Free Press

Reports from Ottawa are to the effect that a number of five-year men, home on leave since the turn of the year, have been warned for return overseas. Similar reports from M.D. 10, with headquarters here at Winnipeg, point to a general policy in this regard. Although both at Ottawa and Winnipeg relatively few men have been notified, there are clearly grounds for the belief that the National Defence Department proposes to treat at least a substantial number of these men as ordinary leave-takers and to use them as reinforcements if, as or when they may conveniently be despatched abroad.

The number of men involved is of no consequence in considering the policy as such. What is important is that the department does not regard men who have already spent five years or more overseas as the last of all reinforcements troops now in this country to be sent forward.
That a single man of these five-year veterans should be ordered overseas, against his wishes, before those junior in service is plainly unjust.

It is difficult to discuss the question on its merits because, apart from a few general and rather confusing references made by General McNaughton, there has been no statement of government policy.
The public has never been told what the department plans to do with these men. The department, evidently, does know and is beginning to put its plan into operation.
Some of these men, at least, are to be sent overseas a second time. But what is lacking from the public point of view, is a statement from the department explaining why it is necessary for any five-year men to undergo a second tour of duty at the front while there are thousands of soldiers in this country who have done no overseas service at all. The reflection, if any, is not on the soldiers at home, who are waiting despatch overseas, but on the department which apparently prefers to send five-year men back in advance of those who are junior to them in service.

On December 17, at Owen Sound, General McNaughton spoke as if very few of these men, brought home, would be returned overseas.
On January 10, at Camp Borden, he said that the reinforcement situation was not affected by the return of the five-year veterans. As stated in the Winnipeg Free Press, the 26,000 draftees available for overseas service, most of these men, doubt, have gone. In addition, there were 26,000 draftees available for infantry whose training was under way and the bulk of whom would be ready by late spring. And, of course, there was the normal stream of volunteers which, up to November, had been regarded as sufficient to maintain our overseas armies at full strength.

The position, as stated last November, was that the 16,000, plus the normal output of reinforcements, would meet all needs until May. By then the 26,000 would be

Mitchell Hepburn Is Hopeful

From The Advertiser—Topic

We have before us a newspaper clipping which says that "one of the most absurd and erroneous conceptions that a lot of people possess concerning our various governments, is that the government supports the people. The fact of the matter is the very reverse; the people support the government. No government, whether it be Dominion, Provincial, Municipal, School Board, has any money of its own.

What money it has to spend is obtained from the people themselves in various forms of taxation. If people would get this truth rooted deeply in their minds, they would take more interest in public affairs, be more careful in the selection of representatives to parliament."
After reading the above the question seems to be "does the government support the people or do the people support the government?"
An address delivered by Premier Select Mitchell Hepburn before the

But on all these matters the Crimea agreement is singularly silent.

Now, in all these Mediterranean and Balkan matters, Greece is of great importance. And although the Crimea statement is silent, actions speak louder than words. Although the statement contained some words that might indicate that the spheres of influence concept had been modified at Yalta, Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden hastened from Yalta to Athens.

In the meantime President Roosevelt flew from the Crimea to the Suez Canal, there to meet a cruiser.
The real importance of the Dardanelles is that a power moving from the Black Sea through the Dardanelles could imperil the eastern exit through the Mediterranean—the Suez Canal. This all-important water-way is flanked by three states, Egypt, Ethiopia, and Arabia.
And the President met these three Kings of Orient.

Did he meet them as the emissary of the Big Three, or as the President of the United States?

The Russians were not present.
And following the President, Mr.
Churchill had his own talks with the three kings, inviting still a fourth ruler, the newly-elected president of Syria. Syria is still, legally, a mandate of France, and has been promised independence
by the French. But General De Gaulle has made it clear in a public speech, that he expects French influence to continue predominant there.

Politically Mr. Roosevelt's position is delicate. Ibn Saud is the leading spirit of the movement for a Pan-Arabic federation including Syria, and this movement wants Palestine as an Arabic member. But Mr. Roosevelt, (and the Republican party also) is committed to the establishment of a Jewish Commonwealth in Palestine. So it was probably wise of Mr. Roosevelt not to invite the President of Syria to gather with Ibn Saud. Mr. Churchill, on the other hand, felt no such inhibition. And if Mr. Roosevelt may have been able to suggest some advantages in the exploitation of Arabian oil resources, Mr. Churchill may have hinted at some political advantages to the Arab world.

As for Stalin—who did not go at all—the Soviet Union contains millions of Moslems.

At Yalta the United States, through the President, definitely abandoned the hands-off policy anywhere. We shall emerge from the war as the premier naval and air power of the earth, and will be interested in bases for both. We have built many airports in Egypt, Italian Eritrea, and Iran and presumably would like to keep them.
Stettinius travelled by plane returning from Yalta via Liberia, (in the neighborhood of Dakar) to Brazil. But between Liberia and Asia the natural stops are either in Egypt or in Eritrea, and it would be interesting to know the terms of the unpublished Italian armistice.

The President's comment on the meeting with the three kings was that he had always advocated meetings between the heads of states.

The long communique, with its colorful description of the Arabian Knights, holds not a hint or what was discussed.

When the Foot-Sloggers Win

By B. T. RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON: The air-power advocates are now taking a back seat among Allied strategists, while the big army and the big navy schools of thought have recaptured
some of their former pre-eminence in Allied military councils. This change, which marks a fundamental change of opinion in the grand strategy of the United Nations war effort, is producing a heated, behind-the-scenes controversy in Washington.

When James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization and reconversion, known popularly as "the assistant president," returned from the Crimean Conference the other day, he told a press conference that Allied military plans would involve in the next month the use of more ready and these men, again including the normal output, would carry our armies well towards the close of the year. General McNaughton has repeatedly said that this plan is being carried out to the letter and is proving in every way to be adequate.

If this is true, why is it necessary for the defence department to compel men who already have served five years or more overseas to go back once more?
It is to the credit of the present Government that there has been greater equality of sacrifice in this war than in the last. Equality of sacrifice has been the purpose of policy control, of the drastic taxation now in force, of rationing and, indeed, of the controls generally.

The five-year men now home, afford an opportunity to apply this principle in the matter of battle service. Perhaps the national defence department will explain why this cannot be done but that, on the contrary, five-year veterans must be sent back once more, although men are available who have had no overseas service and although no reinforcement shortage exists and none is anticipated?

Our Artists Quit the Attic

By A. S. in the Ottawa Journal

War has caught up with the Canadian artist, stripped his studio of canvas, swelled his bank account, and is forcing him down from the traditional garret to more commodious quarters.

Oil painting, water colors, etch-ings and sketches by artists known to connoisseurs and the general public, are in greater demand today than they have been in upwards of a generation, and works are being snapped up from studios, commercial galleries and art shops
almost before the paint is dry.

H. O. McCurry, director of the National Gallery, has come across repeated instances in recent months of exceptional demand for the works of Canadian artists. Painters who usually had dozens and even scores of completed canvases in their studios and store-rooms have had their stocks reduced to a few meagre sketches.

The National Gallery director believes that this demand for the work of Canadian artists is not naturally a little alarmed when the girls hadn't come home by mid-getting on for two o'clock when they finally showed up. Where had they been? Well, the show was over men than ever before. The school of thought which held that Germany would be knocked out of the war by air power and that Japan would follow quickly as soon as Allied air power could be concentrated against her, are significantly silent at this stage of climax in the war. Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war, admitted in a press conference the other day that bombing directed against Japan so far has scarcely inflicted any critical injury upon that country.

The use of air power is undergoing a thorough re-examination.
In the United States, as in Canada,
there is a surplus of trained air crew, and the United States army is transferring airmen to other branches of service. This move, it is important to note, is not merely a matter of transferring surplus staff from air training establishments, though that is involved here
as well as in Canada.

A recent official war department statement, announcing that 55,000 men from the air forces and 25,000 from the army service forces are being put through six-weeks' course as riflemen and transferred to infantry, declared:

"This training is part of the program designed to meet the changing needs of the battle-front where the mission of infantry becomes more and more important as our armed forces approach complete victory. It has been pointed out that the culminating action of all successful wars is infantry action—the final, ground-gaining-in-fighting action that forces the enemy from the terrain he holds and occupies the terrain himself."

In short, the military view that the war will be finally won by the infantry riflemen, slogging through the mud, is now the dominant view of United States war department.
Transfers from the army services,
as well as air forces, are involved in this change, as the statement notes. This point bears on another contentious issue being argued among military men—whether the massive, armored and heavily-mechanized forces, of which the Canadian army is one of the most transitory and is much more than a wartime boom intensified by the shutting-off of the flow of European art to this country.

"It is not just a general demand for Canadian paintings," he explained to The Journal, "but a very decided trend for acquiring works of painters who have the say in Canadian art."

Trustees and officials of the National Gallery are highly pleased with the current interest in works by Canadians and regard it as most encouraging to artists of this country. Moreover, they feel it is in a sense the harvest of the educational work carried on by the Gallery for

District News in Brief

Bashaw Mayor Has Been Village Council Member for Many Years

BASHAW: Member of the council of the Village of Bashaw since April, 1931, Mayor Edward M. Robertson has enjoyed a career of public service that, according to his own wishes, won't be terminated for some considerable time yet. Starting his career in the office of the Hudson's Bay Company retail store in 1911, the mayor has since held a number of important positions both in Edmonton and in Bashaw.

In addition to his mayoral duties, he is a barrister, and police magistrate with jurisdiction in the provincial constituency of Camrose and east to the Saskatchewan border.

Mayor Robertson was born in Kinsale, County Cork, (now Eire) Ireland, in August, 1886, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Robertson. Educated through private tuition at Kinsale, and at Skerry's Academy, Cork, and the Royal University of Ireland, he came to Canada in 1911. He was married to the former Miss Elsie L. Swartz in Edmonton.

After leaving the Hudson's Bay Company, the mayor-to-be entered the attorney-general's department, and later was associated with S. A. Dickson, Edmonton barrister, and Emery Newell and Company. He later became chief clerk in the provincial secretary's department.

During the last war, he enlisted with the Queen's University Battalion at Kingston, Ont., and was subsequently released for medical reasons.

He moved to Bashaw in July, 1922.

Mayor Robertson is a keen admirer of the great outdoors, and among his recreations, he counts walking, swimming and canoeing. In inclement weather, he turns to

Matthias Rink Is Winner Of Flour

CORONATION: The Matthias rink from Castor took home nearly 900 pounds of flour from the Coronation bouspiel; it was the highly contested prize. St. G. Kerr, RCN, is home on leave. Ladies bridge club presented a gift to soon-departing Mrs. D. Beeching at the home of Mrs. E. J. Gibson. Mixed bouspiel will be held here Monday.

Bonspiel Winners

Camrose Training Centre Will Close

The Camrose training centre, No. 131 CI (B) TC, will be closed in a few days and the whole training establishment, including CWAC, will be moved to Dundurn, Saskatchewan, it was announced at headquarters of Military District 13 on Saturday.

Reinforcements now in training at the Camrose basic training centre will be despatched to No. 133 CI (B) TC, Wetaskiwin, to complete their training.

The training centre is commanded by Lt. Col. P. J. A. Fleming, and was first opened on October 24, 1940. Col. E. R. Knight, VD, at present officer commanding the 41st (Res.) Brigade Group, was the first officer commanding, and he was followed by Col. Louis Scott, OBE, DCM, at present commandant of A16 CTC. Lt. Col. Fleming took over from Col. Scott.

There are facilities at Camrose to provide basic training for 1,000 men at a time.

At present, so far as is known, no instructions have been issued as to what use, if any, will be made of the buildings which have been erected there. The Camrose Normal school was taken over as headquarters for the training centre, and the hutment area was built surrounding the school building.

Japanese Thrust Is Driven Back

KANDY: Ceylon, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—British and Indian troops of the 33rd Indian Corps' 20th Division have repelled a Japanese counter-attack on the Irrawaddy's southern bank, opposite Mayinmu, about 30 miles west of Mandalay. A detachment of Indian troops charged with bayonets after their last ammunition had gone, to drive back a strong Japanese thrust against one of the Allied bridgeheads threatening Mandalay.

In the Siqu bridgehead on the eastern bank of the Irrawaddy, the 19th Indian—In the face of constant shelling, moved two miles nearer Mandalay and reached a village 36 miles north of the city after extending their bridgehead to a strip 12 miles long.

The last Japanese thrust to Maj. Gen. Frank Festing's 36th Division at Myitson, on the Shweli bend, about 60 miles northeast of Singu, was overcome.

Reserve Army Notes

Three Members of Fusiliers Aggregate 100 Years Service

Standard and quality in the Edmonton Fusiliers runs high, and no wonder. These old members in particular can point to an aggregate of 100 years service. They are RSM. W. M. Gordon, MM, CSM, D. Collister and CSM, J. Parsons.

There are others, who although they haven't the service record, can boast membership dating back to before the War 1914-18. CSM. A. P. Gregory is one of them.

These records show how interesting the program of training has been throughout the years and men coming back from Active Service are rejoining the unit. Some of these are: Sgt. J. McNaughton, Fus. A. McNaughton and Sgt. D. G. Ross and Cpl. R. L. Wood.

61st (R) FIELD BATTERY, RCA. Wednesday evening's activities commenced with a training "talkie" on the subject of First Aid in Battle. This was most instructive and a very realistic method of imparting training.

The Battery has received an issue of Sten guns, and instruction on the care and handling of these effective short range weapons was started, while gun laying drill was also carried on.

A Driving and Maintenance course is to be commenced soon and those wishing to take advantage of this valuable training course should hand in their names at the Battery office next parade.

Annual pay parade will take place on Wednesday, February 28.

2nd (R) BATTALION THE LOYAL EDMONTON REGT. The unit is busy these days with spring training getting under full swing. Officers and NCO's school, D. & M. schools and Mortar school in addition to the regular training syllabus, makes plenty of work for everybody.

CSM. Hopkins, who has been one of the Battalion's A.I.'s for the last two years, is leaving the unit this week end. He will be missed and the best wishes of us all go with him.

The annual pay parade took place Thursday.

4th CASUALTY CLEARING STATION

and

13th FIELD HYGIENE SECTION

At the parade held February 23 additional instruction in small arms was given the personnel of these units in accordance with the requirements of the tests of the elementary training. Following this range practice was held and another round of the competitive shoot showed instruction previously given to have been of benefit to the men. This parade also was the annual pay parade.

These two units are now looking forward to spring when it may be possible to do some out-door exercises special to their particular branch of the service.

The human body includes 206 bones held together and moved by 636 muscles.

Big Ration Racket Smashed in Raid

PARIS, Feb. 26.—(AP)— Two members of a gang of nine negro soldiers were killed and two military police were wounded in a raid on the gang's headquarters that broke up what was described by officials Saturday as one of the biggest ration rackets in the European theatre of operations.

Officials said the soldiers diverted the U.S. army and drew army food in wholesale lots with forged requisition forms for the black market. They took over a hotel in the little town of Ermenonville to provide storeroom space.

The men were drawing rations for 250 men daily, using stolen army trucks to transport the food from Paris to Ermenonville. Black market operators motored to the little town to pick up the stolen supplies.

The seven, who signed confessions, are awaiting trial on charges of desertion and theft, with possible death penalties.

Four Found Dead In Auto Victims Carbon Monoxide

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Feb. 26.—(CP)— Four Toronto residents were found dead in an automobile on the highway about 14 miles southwest of here yesterday, police reported. Death was believed to have been caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

The dead are Lloyd Stephens, 38, Louis Stevens, 31, Olive Pearl Morton, 25, and Mrs. Anita Frances Walton.

Police said they apparently stopped the car, left the engine running to keep the car heater operating and fell asleep.

TO OPEN DISPLAY— Dr. F. S. McCall, Principal of Alberta College, who will open an exhibition of paintings by Canadian Indians at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Empire room of the Hudson's Bay Company. The show is being sponsored by the Council for Canadian Unity.

Australia to Get Canadian Salmon

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26.—(CP)— Officials of the Commonwealth of Australia say supplies procurement here announced last night that 70,000 cases of canned salmon, group grades two and three, which do not include sockeye, have been released for shipment to Australia by Canadian and United Kingdom authorities under mutual aid agreement. Recently Australia relaxed import restrictions on Canadian canned salmon permitting importers to bring in one quarter of the amount they imported before the war.

Govt. Expected To Announce Wheat Policy

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)— The government is expected to announce its 1945 wheat policy this week and Trade Minister MacKinnon has been called back from Edmonton to attend Tuesday's cabinet meeting when it is expected the final decisions will be drawn up.

The most important will concern whether initial payments to farmers will continue on the present basis of $1.25 for No. 1 Northern at the head-of-the-takes with the usual spread for other grades.

The government withheld announcing its policy for the next crop until it had received the brief from the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, presented last week. The brief asked that the price be at least $1.25 this year.

EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT

Now that the brief has been studied, it is stated, the government is anxious to announce its policy as soon as possible so the farmers on the prairies will know where they stand.

The announcement is expected to reiterate the advice the government gave last December that the wheat acreage be reduced this year.

Wheat marketing and prices come under the trade department and although the policy, it is understood, has been considered pretty thoroughly at previous meetings of the cabinet, some points have arisen which require Mr. MacKinnon's attention. The minister had intended proceeding to Vancouver to deliver a speech there next week.

NASH MOTORS OF CANADA LIMITED
WINDSOR, ONTARIO

DOUBTLESS "Sparky" Milner would be all for still further tightening of controls on the Canadian rubber situation after his experiences in the second period of Saturday night's junior hockey session at the Arena, when pucks came his way from every direction on the compass.

Canadians scored nine times during those 20 minutes, but Milner stopped 17, some of them not too tough of course, but many were tagged for goals. The total of 26 shots set a new high for a single period in junior hockey here this season.

Milner stopped 15 out of 17 in the first period and 15 out of 16 in the third and the total of 69 shots for the entire game also was a season's record. Don Murray did little business in the opening canto with only four shots to deal with, all of them in the first five minutes. Six came Don's way in the second and one got past him and he stopped 14 out of 15 in the last stanza.

Kinsmen Rink Cops Primary In Service Club Bonselpiel

Kinsmen rink, skipped by Dr. Vic Lloyd, defeated Associated Canadian Travellers with Norm Adams as skipper by a score of 10-8 in the primary final of the Service Club bonselpiel at the Royal Curling Club yesterday afternoon to become holders of the ACT trophy for the current year.

With Cal Keys skipping, Senior Chamber of Commerce won 14-7 over the Junior Chamber of Commerce (Larry Hodgins, skip) in the secondary final.

The Kinsmen beat United Commercial Travellers 10-6 and Associated Travellers eliminated Gyo 9-8 in the primary semi-final games.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce curlers won 12-9 against Edmonton Teachers Association, while Senior Chamber of Commerce edged out Cosmopolitan Club 12-11 in 13 ends.

Senior Chamber rink was trailing Cosmopolitans 6-11 after the ninth end, but tied up the game by counting two, one and two and then secured the winning rock in the extra end.

Associated Travellers had Kinsmen down 7-4 at the ninth in the primary final, but a great shot by third man Bob Anderson paved the way for a 3-count for Kinsmen in the 10th and they added three more in the 11th. The third was a blank end in this game, and the Kinsmen had a blank end (10th) in their semi-final session with UCT.

Enter North Final

EAC Juveniles Cop Title By Downing Canadians 4-1

Edmonton Athletic Club captured the City Juvenile Hockey League championship Saturday night when they turned back Canadians (2) 4-1 in the third game of the best of three final. Johnny Molyneux's Clubmen won the first game 8-4 and the second ended in a 3-3 tie.

The EAC squad, managed by Jack Price, now meets the winner of the Lacombe-Red Deer series for the northern Alberta title. Winners of the north will then enter the provincial final.

After a scoreless first period, Gordon Grierson started the EAC's on the road to victory Saturday night when he netted on a pass from Norman Grant before Louie Holmes' Canadians could come back. Jack Meldrum drove home a relay from Clem Kerr and then Kerr made it 3-0 on a play with Harry Jeske. Jack Sugden cut the lead by one goal before the period ended when he tallied on Roy Merkel's assist for the losers, who won the league schedule.

Harry Jeske banged in the only third period goal on an unassisted effort.

The fixture was fast and clean and saw both sides check closely. The Clubmen, spirited by their edge in the series, played a great game and were worthy of their victory.

EAC's Overpowered 12-2 in Second Clash; Campbell Nets Four Goals

Canadians Two Up in City Junior Series

Third Game Of Playoff On Tuesday

CLIMAXED by a big second period when they poured nine goals past "Sparky" Milner, Canadians routed the EAC juniors 12-2 for two in a row in the city championship series, at the Arena on Saturday night. Canucks won the first 8-0 and the third in the best-of-five playoffs is set for Tuesday.

Canadian scoring points again were well distributed with seven players sharing, but Don Campbell led in actual goals with four and he had one assist. Jim Slugg, Vince Bannan, John Rypien and Bill Gadsby all scored twice, while Slugg, Eddie Thomas and Cyril Thomas drew three assists. Bannan two and Rypien one.

Don Benkie and Jack Duffield counted for EAC's and each also had an assist, along with Bob Manson and Eric MacDonald.

Canadians had 59 direct shots on Goalie Milner while Don Murray at the opposite dealt with 25.

The junior league leaders scored only twice during the opening period, Campbell securing his first of four on a three-way effort with Slugg and Eddie Thomas at 9:45 and his second at 18 minutes from Slugg's pass.

MacDonald had the first shot of the game within a few seconds after the opening whistle, but Murray blocked. Don Anderson had a good chance from Jim Fleming's pass shortly after.

EAC's never had a shot at Murray during the last 15 minutes of the period and Campbell's second goal came after a heavy barrage directed against Milner.

Slugg raised the score to 3-0 after five minutes had been played in the middle session, and 20 seconds later Don Benkie got one back when he was camped right in front of the Canadian net to receive Manson's pass. Duffield also was in on the play.

Bannan converted Cyril Thomas' pass into another Canadian goal at 5:56, and Campbell boosted the total to 5-1 at 11:56 following a scramble a few feet out, with Nick Hrynuk off serving a penalty.

Rypien passed out from behind the EAC goal for Bannan to score again at 14:06 and Bill Gadsby combined with Bannan for another at 14:27—making three in exactly one minute.

Campbell added one to raise the reading to 9-1 at 15:15, both Slugg and Eddie Thomas sharing in the effort. Rypien came up with another 18:15 from Bannan and C. Thomas and Gadsby's on a goal-mouth pass from Cy Thomas at 18:38 left the count 11-1 at the end of the period.

Slugg got the final Canadian marker from Campbell early in the third stanza. Milner stopped Campbell's shot, but Slugg shoved the puck into the net.

Jack Duffield scored the final goal of the game with Benkie and MacDonald both having a stake in the play.

Ray Spencer almost beat Milner twice in the period and Alan Shantz also came close to netting for EAC's. Art Chalifoux missed the post once by inches. EAC's showed up best during the last five minutes.

Canadiens Whip Leafs 5-2

Richard Scores 45th Goal To Mark Up All-Time Record

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 in a National Hockey League game here last night, but the thing that mattered for a record 13,961 fans was that Maurice Richard bagged his 45th goal of the season to establish an all-time record.

The goal enabled Richard to pass the 44 chucked up by Joe Malone of Canadiens back in 1918. He got it with less than three minutes to go.

The pandemonium that broke out then far surpassed anything when Canadiens took the Stanley Cup final game a year ago. Richard got a six-minute ovation, mingled with a shower of paper that held up the game almost 10 minutes. And he got the puck with which he scored the goal presented to him at the box by Malone himself.

Girls' Series Undecided

Alberta Golden Bears Win Intercollegiate Hoop Trophy

SASKATOON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The Rigby trophy, emblematic of inter-varsity men's basketball supremacy in the prairie provinces, has gone back to Alberta. The Golden Bears from Edmonton defeated both Manitoba University and Saskatchewan University Huskies here Saturday to carry off honors of the tournament.

In the afternoon they beat the Saskatchewan Huskies 32-22 and at night they swamped Manitoba Varsity 43-25.

The Cecil Race trophy, emblematic of girls' supremacy, hangs in the balance, the balance being games at Edmonton likely next week-end between Alberta Co-Eds and Saskatchewan Muskies.

Saturday's afternoon game the Alberta lassies, presenting a smooth working aggregation, downed Manitoba Co-Eds 49-29, but in the evening Alberta and Saskatchewan girls put on another thriller which Saskatchewan won 37-35. Four points were given for games when Saskatchewan and Alberta played Manitoba and only two when Saskatchewan and Alberta played.

Previous arrangements being made for a Saskatchewan trip to Alberta next week-end.

Hunter Collects 4 Scoring Points As Mustangs Win

CALGARY, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Ken "Red" Hunter had a scoring field day when RCAF Mustangs trimmed HMCS Tecumseh 10-2 here Saturday night to windup in top position of the Alberta Service Senior League scoring with 29 points.

The Mustangs are scored three goals and collected one assist to give him a one point margin over Max Bentley of the Currie Army squad. E. Slowinski, leader in the scoring through the majority of the season netted one point to keep him in the race with 26.

In going down to their 15th defeat Navy displayed their usual fighting spirit and treated the fans to a wide open brand of hockey.

Hunter (3), Allen (2), Wilder (2), Hunt, Michalak and Brown netted the Mustang goals while McDougall and Slowinski tallied for the losers.

United Nations Conference May Last for Two Months

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—A rush of neutrals to qualify for membership in the United Nations and an invitation to the San Francisco conference on world organization for peace has strengthened forecasts that the assembly opening April 25 will bog down into a talk-fest that might last two months.

Real 'Eadache!

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The doorman at the Empire theatre said yesterday: "I never had such a 'eadache'."

Due to a slight oversight by the London Sketch, word got out that any soldier from St. Louis, Mo., would be admitted free to the movie "Meet me in St. Louis," at the Piccadilly Circus theatre. Apparently all the Americans in London got wind of this and tried to talk their way in, claiming to be from St. Louis.

A paragraph inadvertently left out of the story said that St. Louisans, upon showing credentials, would receive free tickets at the nearby Rainbow Corner Red Cross club.

Indian Woman Held in Killing

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., Feb. 26.—(CP)—Magdalene Isaac, an Indian woman, has been charged with the murder of her step-daughter, Mary Isaac, who was shot to death last Oct. 13 at the Isaac Indian encampment near Kalzas creek, 200 miles north-east of here.

Mrs. Isaac's husband, Tom, is in hospital recovering from a gunshot wound in his left shoulder.

Mrs. Isaac will come up for preliminary hearing here Monday.

Evidence at the inquiry revealed one shot had been fired at the time of the tragedy. The bullet passed through Mr. Isaac's left shoulder and entered Mary's body below the right shoulder. She died instantly.

Last Oct. 13 a trapper travelled 125 miles by gas-bus to Fort Selkirk, to report the shooting. He told police that Mrs. Isaac told him of the tragedy. She had said she heard the shots while away on her rabbit snare line and had returned to the family tent to find her daughter dying and her husband wounded.

MP Dies

SELKIRK, Man., Feb. 26.—(CP)—John M. Turner, 44, member of parliament for Springfield constituency since 1935, died in hospital here Saturday following a heart attack. Born in Beauséjour, Man., Mr. Turner was well known as a brewery products salesman.

One explanation for the sudden urge of South American neutrals to declare war on the Axis was revealed when Turkey declared war Friday and announced that the "Big Three" at Yalta had ruled that only those countries at war with the Axis before March 1 would qualify for representation at San Francisco.

Since the Yalta meeting, Ecuador, Paraguay, Peru, Chile, Venezuela and Uruguay declared war and the roll of the United Nations was increased to 43 with the declaration by Turkey.

Egypt declared war on the Axis Saturday but it was not immediately known if that country would formally join the United Nations. Iceland and a few other countries remain to be heard from.

Argentina, has broken relations with the Axis but has not declared war and is unlikely to be represented at San Francisco.

Presence at San Francisco of so many small countries is what diplomats here expect to prolong the discussions.

Strikers at Detroit Reject Board Order

DETROIT, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Striking employees of Chrysler Corporation's Dodge main plant rejected yesterday a regional War Labor Board order to end a strike which since Friday has "virtually halted" the output of tank and plane parts.

The work stoppage, involving some 14,000 workers, followed the discharge of eight employees accused by the company of loafing and refusing to meet production rates.

Unionists charged the company with a "speed-up."

Accept Wage Offer

HALIFAX, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Retroactive wage increases of six cents an hour were accepted at a mass meeting last night by Halifax waterfront cold storage and grain elevator workers who staged a one-day strike last week to enforce their demands for increases of from five to 15 cents an hour.

Germans' Loot

TORONTO, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Francis H. Taylor, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, Saturday night told the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada that the Germans have looted Europe of about $36,000,000,000 worth of art treasures and gold and jewelry.

Body of Wanderer Claimed by "Wife"

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Vancouver police received a telegram Saturday from a Los Angeles law firm claiming the body of John G. Hill, 72, wandering Australian shearer on whose body $61,000 was found. The law firm said it was claiming the body for Hill's wife, "Lena Hill."

Hill was found dead last Sunday in a Cordova street hotel and when the body was being un-dressed at the city morgue, $61,000 in cash, bonds and bank drafts was found in the sleeve of an old shirt wrapped around his waist.

Police were amazed by the wire, for a will found among his effects in a Vancouver hotel indicated his wife had died.

Hill's best friend, J. W. Sutton of Willows, Calif., also said that his wife had died some years ago and that Hill's closest relative was believed to be a brother.

The wire, signed "Nathaniel and Dicker," said:

"Advise collect wire whether you are holding body of John G. Hill. I represent wife, Lena Hill, who will send shipping instructions."

Meanwhile, Hill's assets are being turned over to S. A. Moore, official administrator.

One Dead, 3 Hurt In Bus Accident

BOSTON BAR, B.C., Feb. 26.—(CP)—One person was killed and three injured Saturday when a Greyhound bus plunged 300 feet down the side of the Fraser canyon 13 miles north of here. Boston Bar is 100 air miles east of Vancouver. Dead is a Chinese from Vancouver. His name is not known. Injured are: Charles Bond, driver, broken leg; a Vancouver woman, name not known; and Alex Gamie, Lytton storekeeper.

Britons to Seek Markets Abroad

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—The Daily Express said today that representatives of a number of British firms have been granted permits to go to Turkey, Egypt, Italy and other Mediterranean countries with a view to stepping up Britain's exports. Some of these firms have already switched to 50-per-cent peace production, the paper said.

Tory Candidate

NELSON, B.C., Feb. 26.—(CP)—Stuart S. McDiarmid, prominent Trail, B.C., citizen, Saturday night was chosen Progressive Conservative candidate for Kootenay West in the next federal election. The present member, W. K. Esling, Progressive Conservative, is retiring.

No "Slowdown"

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Street railwaymen of three Pacific coast cities voted against staging a "legal slowdown," it was announced Saturday by Charles M. Stewart, chairman of the advisory board for locals in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster of the Street Railwaymen's Union (AFL).

Convoy Scattered To Elude Warships

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The navy department Saturday removed its censorship from a statement given the Associated Press by an officer that a Murmansk-bound convoy was instructed by its escort to scatter because the German battleship Tirpitz and 23 other warships were approaching.

Lieut. Charles M. Ulrich, USNR, interviewed at Norfolk in July, 1943, said he had been in command of a navy gun crew aboard a merchant ship bound for Murmansk in convoy with 39 other ships a year before, and that on the sixth day out of Iceland and for five days thereafter the convoy was attacked repeatedly by torpedo planes and dive bombers. Several ships were sunk, he said, and that "at the end of the fifth day our escort radioed us to scatter because the Tirpitz and 23 other warships were heading for our convoy."

Priest Tells How Churchmen Slain

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A wounded Catholic priest's story of the slaughter of churchmen in the St. Augustine church by Japanese troops in Manila's old walled city, was broadcast from the Philippine capital yesterday by Arthur Feldman, Blue Network war correspondent.

Feldman identified the priest as Father Palomino, rescued by American infantrymen who wiped out the last organized enemy resistance in the Intramuros Saturday.

Father Palomino was described as the only survivor of the episode.

"The Japs ordered 130 priests who were in St. Augustine church to take refuge in the air raid shelter of the church."

"Once the priests were inside the shelter the Japs tossed hand grenades in from the single opening. Many priests were killed and many more were wounded by the blasts."

"Then the Japs told all who were standing to open their mouths, they stuck pistols in the open mouths and shot them. Following that the Japs closed the entrance to the shelter, leaving the wounded to be buried alive."

Disastrous Blaze

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—About 20 large buildings in Georgetown's business quarter, including two banks, the post office, the office of the Daily Argosy, the broadcasting station and the museum of national history were destroyed Friday in the worst fire in British Guiana's history. Damage is estimated at millions of dollars.

Canadian Exhibit

PARIS, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—A "Canada at War" exhibition of photographs was opened Saturday in the famous Champs Elysees by the Canadian ambassador to France, Maj.-Gen. George P. Vanier. The French foreign minister, Georges Bidault, the military governor of Paris, and Gen. Joseph Koenig, were present.

Crerar's Drive Not Spectacular But Strategic

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The 16-day-old 1st Canadian Army attack southeast of Nijmegen has brought only a small territorial gain, but it is forming, nevertheless, an important factor in Gen. Eisenhower's program for destruction of the German forces west of the Rhine.

It becomes increasingly clear that Gen. Crerar's offensive never was intended to bring spectacular results. It was designed to put strong pressure on the northernmost enemy forces, to roll up as much of the northern end of the Siegfried lines as possible and form a compressing northern wall on the German pocket.

COMPLETE POCKET

Now the United States 1st and 9th armies' attack eastward from Aachen has been aimed toward Cologne, less than 20 miles away, with the apparent intention of forming a southern wall to complete the pocket around the strongest concentration of enemy forces in the west.

The British 2nd Army and the Rhine itself form the other two sides. It would be logical to expect the British 2nd Army to go into action later, however—when Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery figure the time ripe to grind the pocket out of existence and annihilate the Germans with the least cost to the Allies in men and material.

WILL PRESIDE—Julian Garrett, president of the Community Chest of Edmonton who will preside at the fourth annual meeting of the organization which will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Macdonald hotel.

$3,000 Donated In Bid to Save Coast Lad's Life

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26.—(CP)—From factories and farms throughout Canada and the United States, from airmen and merchant seamen, and from a member of the United States marine corps, money donations totalling $3,000 have poured in here in order that a little Vancouver boy, five-year-old Colin Gray, may have the delicate heart operation necessary to save his life. There now are sufficient funds to provide Colin, who is suffering from an enlarged heart, with the best heart surgery specialists on the North American continent.

Mutual Tolerance Urged by Premier

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Nationally can serve humanity "only by the extension of the ideal of mutual tolerance, of racial co-operation and of equality among men", Prime Minister Mackenzie King said yesterday in a short address opening the new short-wave station of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

"Only as nationality serves humanity can mankind hope to substitute co-operation for conflict, in the relations between the nations of the world," the Prime Minister added. "Radio broadcasting is a powerful means of helping to extend these ideals throughout the world."

Justice Minister St. Laurent, speaking in French during the inauguration of the 50 kilowatt station whose transmitters are located at Sackville, N.B., said that "we all wish that this new marvel of modern science will make known among the nations to which it will broadcast Canadian voices, the burning desire of Canadians to contact them in closer relations."

Bidault and Eden Discuss Conference

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Georges Bidault, French foreign minister, arrived yesterday and talked with Foreign Secretary Eden preliminary to a conference Monday with Prime Minister Churchill. The Crimea conference is the main topic up for discussion. France has yet to announce whether she will accept the Big Three's invitation to co-sponsor, with China, the United Nations' security conference at San Francisco.

Agreement Grants Railmen in U.S. Paid Vacations

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—An agreement granting increased vacation allowances with pay to more than 800,000 railroad employees was signed in Chicago Friday by representatives of the railway brotherhoods and the carriers conference committee representing the east, west and southeast railroads, it was learned yesterday.

The Chicago Tribune said the new agreement provides a paid vacation of one week for all employees with not less than 160 compensated days in the preceding year. Employees with five years service, not necessarily consecutive, will receive two weeks vacation.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Girl Is Urged to Give Up Married Sweetheart

It Will Pay Dividends to Send Husband Back to Wife And Children; Gigolo Match Is Always Ill Advised

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 23 years old and in love with a married man who is the father of two children. Here is my problem: His wife will not give him a divorce unless we agree to take the children, as she says she is not able to work and support them. But they are her children and I do not feel that I should have to spend my life caring for another woman's brood.

I love this man enough to give up everything in the world for him, and am seriously considering going away to another place with him. Do you think I will live to regret it if I cast conventions to the wind and go with him? How can I attain the happiness I desire so much?

UNHAPPY.

ANSWER: You are willing to sacrifice your honor for this man.

Points for Parents

By EDITH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "Let's agree on the time you should be in bed and ready to go to sleep—then you'll have to figure out what time you think you should start to bed."

Mother: "I don't know what good it does to set an early bedtime—you poke up now, and get off your clothes!"

Agreement as to whether bed time means "ready for sleep" or "starting to undress" may prevent some nagging and arguing.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

From the indignant tone of numerous letters I infer that some readers did not like what I said recently about having children when you are young and fit and happy.

Mrs. M. C. hopes the time will come when social living (just what social living means I am not sure, unless it means the state) will guarantee couples like herself and her husband two babies, no more, no less, the health and education of every child will be the responsibility of the State, no stigma will be attached to any child, child-birth will be painless and doctors who cherish the pagan notion that a reasonable amount of suffering is good for a wife or mother...

What makes Mrs. C's view interesting is the fact that she is the mother of two children, all paid for, too, she says. She adds that if I take her husband and herself a few more years to get out of debt, but they are paying for their home and they are now getting a taste of happiness.

Then this misguided but characteristically self-assured young man mentions things which have set me against the very idea of bringing children into the world—the stupidity of mankind blowing itself to bits in this barbarous war; the experience of parents he has heard say they would never have had children if they knew what they know now; the idea that the kid in the foxhole probably wishes he had never been born; and finally the sad preview of the future one gets from a visit to the veterans' hospital. To G. H. A. life is a steam roller—don't get in the way or it will smash you down.

In that article I said: "Very well. You're a man, not a rat. You'll be happy if you have a baby, even if you haven't as many clothes, furniture or front as fine of the rats you know."

"Or is there enough of the rat in you, after all, to make you think it would be better to wait a year or two and have some fun or get the furniture, car or house paid for or get a lease with a clause in it before you have a baby?"

That's what I mean. Now my boy, are you a man or a rat?

Soldier Vanishes From Fast Train: Awakes in House

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(Reuters)—The Daily Mail reported today that Gnr. Robert Nels Engstrom of the Canadian Army vanished from a London-Glasgow express as it sped at 80 miles an hour through the English countryside Saturday night and when he awakened in an empty house in Warwickshire was unable to explain how he got there. "All I remember is being on the train, then you woke me up in the house," he told police. "I must have stepped through the wrong door."

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

The former national tournament director of the American Contract Bridge League received a big ovation at the nationals when he stepped on the floor with a shiny new maple leaf on his shoulder. He had just been promoted from captain to Maj. Russell J. Baldwin.

The major was the mathematical genius of the League, but he pointed out to me one of the hands he kibitzed at the tournament which was played according to mathematics, and Baldwin thought the result would have been better if the declarer had just "used his wits."

Several players figured the percentage was 50-50 on a spade finesse. However, when the declarer finessed the queen, the club was returned and now once again he had to take a finesse and his contract was defeated. Baldwin pointed out that if the declarer had just gone up with the ace and led a diamond, dummy's two losing clubs could have been discarded on the two good hearts and the contract made.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

It is absolutely impossible, no matter how hard the parent tries, for her to be entirely impartial in her treatment of her different children. The impact of personality upon personality is just as shattering in a family as among strangers. Some persons always bring out the best in us, others the worst. There are certain to be whispers of this conflict to which none but the most unobservant parent would be insensitive.

Mrs. F. H. sees clearly what is happening but doesn't know what to do about it. She writes, "My oldest girl, Jane, is 11 and her younger brother is 9. Jane is slow in school, indifferent in the performance of her home duties and not at all popular with her playmates."

"Instead of being inspired to be more like her brother, it is plain that Jane envies him. She makes no effort to be different yet she is not happy about it."

"I try very hard to be impartial. I give them both the same good clothes. I read to them at night and they play games with their father. Neither of us can understand why Jane should be willing to let a younger child surpass her in every field. What are we doing that is wrong?"

You see Jane plainly enough in all but one respect. You do not see that unwittingly, perhaps, your treatment of her is different.

The brother arouses your praise. Jane gets advice and scoldings and in your response to her behavior is disappointment. When this started is hard to say but no doubt it was so long ago that while its fruits are obvious, its seeds are not.

At the moment the older child has little opportunity to be even slightly superior. She should have some responsibilities which her brother does not and additional privileges not enjoyed by him. This will emphasize her position as eldest. Then I would begin today to act as if Jane were as popular and worthy of praise as Everett.

Be blind to her deficiencies and play up her assets. Let her BE different, that is no crime. Let each child be proud of what he or she is without reference to the other. It is only by seeming to see change as already present that you encourage the child to become what you visualize her becoming. Now she's so sunk in a spirit of inferiority that she cannot rise above it. Free her from the necessity to compare herself with anyone but herself and you may be amazed at what she can become.

If you would like our leaflet, "Home Tasks as Means of Building Responsibility," send your request and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldered in care of this newspaper.

Coastal Schooner Is Rammed, Sunk

HALIFAX, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Sliced in two by a British rescue ship while it lay moored at its wharf here Saturday, a three-masted coastal was towed outside the harbor but sank shortly afterward with loss of its freight cargo and two marine engines, valued at $60,000. The central wharf was almost demolished. No one was injured, and the British steamer was undamaged.

Says Education Is Not Enough For Democracy

A high level of general education, or even the ability to think clearly along certain lines are not sufficient to achieve a truly democratic state. Equally necessary is an understanding of the deeper meanings of life and certain attitudes and ideals that are the very life-blood of democracy.

Dr. E. Lloyd Willoughby, president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation and the Manitoba Teachers' Society declared at a public meeting in the Memorial Hall Friday afternoon.

Sponsored by the Alberta Teachers' Association, the meeting was attended by city teachers and members of the general public. Dr. Willoughby also spoke Friday morning, to student teachers at the University of Alberta, and will address another public meeting in the Memorial Hall Saturday afternoon.

Education, the speaker said, should teach how to make a living, how to build a life and how to influence a world. In thinking and planning for a world of tomorrow, he said, let us never forget that it must inevitably rest on the moral education of the people. Moral education was an aspect of all education.

Dr. Willoughby declared that education can save democracy in the same way it saved Soviet Russia if Canadian people are willing to accord it the place it should occupy in a democratic society. The schools should be deliberately designed to provide an education in and for democracy.

To educate the citizens for a truly democratic society, the speaker called for conditions that would attract into the teaching profession men and women of the best ability, character and attainments; high quality teacher-training institutions that provide a longer period of training, and better organization of the school system generally.

Turning to the international field, Dr. Willoughby stated that for world understanding and a lasting peace, an international pattern of education is necessary.

"War will not be brought under control merely by providing men with legal codes and enough to eat," he warned. The speaker described the initial meeting of the Canada-United States Committee on Education last September. Far reaching decisions had been made at this conference.

"If there ever was a cause worthy to call forth all the effort, devotion and intelligence of men, it is the cause of world peace," he said. "Organized education has a significant contribution to make to that cause."

$1,125 Said Lost Over The Weekend

Loss in the city of money amounted to $1,125 in cash and money orders was reported Saturday to city police by H. Ayers of Grand Centre and Frank Pierce, 10029 93 street.

Mr. Ayers did not say where his billfold was lost, but stated that it contained $155 in cash, a Canadian National money order for $100, a Canadian Pacific money order for $50 and a bank cheque for $50.

Mr. Pierce said his wallet had contained $770 in cash. He had used the wallet when paying for some potato chips in a downtown hotel, but did not miss it until he had made a number of other calls.

Loses Cash, Card At Hockey Match

Saturday night's hockey game at the Arena proved to be expensive for Mrs. L. Wilson, 10959 81 avenue. Mrs. Wilson informed city police that her purse, containing $50 in currency, and her national registration certificate, had been stolen from her auto which was parked for about two hours near the Arena. She was not certain whether it had been locked when she left it, she said.

Glenora League Ice Carnival Is Well Received

The Glenora community league's first annual ice carnival staged last week was enthusiastically supported and presented by members for all parts of the district, according to Alex Stockwell, principal of the Glenora school.

The school sponsored the event with the community league as one of its extra-curricular projects.

Rink decorations included colored lights, Chinese lanterns, streamers and bunting. The usual program of races was interspersed with figure skating by Cecilia Hassan and Walter Gaana and sister, Albert Hardy staged a number of barrel jumps. A. C. Emery, chairman of the rink committee, opened the carnival, while T. D. Baker was announcer, and Miss M. V. Ander carnival secretary.

Following the ice festival, the artists were entertained at the school. Mrs. A. Stockwell poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Baker and the Misses Buchanan and Auderson of the teaching staff.

Judges of the events were Lloyd E. Wood, Miss Rose Wood, A. S. Bird and W. B. Shaw. First prize winners follow:
